

Director's Message

As we step into August, our Okinawa community is embracing new routines: children are back in school, deployments continue, and typhoon season is at its peak. This time of year reminds us all that readiness is more than a checklist, it's a mindset.

At Marine Corps Family Team Building, our mission remains steadfast: to strengthen our military community by providing programs that empower Marines, Sailors, and their families to thrive through life's transitions and challenges. Whether you're preparing for a deployment, adjusting to the school year, or seeking connection and self-care, we are here to support you.

This month, we offer a variety of workshops and events designed to meet your needs, from foundational spouse support and cultural experiences to deployment readiness and communication skills. We are also excited to announce our upcoming two-day leadership seminar in September, featuring multiple experts and the highly requested 7 Habits of Highly Effective People course, aimed at developing leaders who will be remembered.

Space is limited for many of these opportunities, so I encourage you to register early and take full advantage of what MCFTB has to offer. Together, we can build resilience, foster connections, and prepare for whatever lies ahead.

Thank you for being part of this incredible community.

Don't Miss: "The Leader They'll Remember" Leadership Seminar

Step into your next level of leadership!

This September, Marine Corps Family Team Building invites Active-Duty E-4 and above, O-1 to O-3 officers, and civilian personnel to a mission-focused, two-day seminar designed to sharpen leadership skills across the ranks. Led by experienced subject matter experts, this high-impact event delivers practical tools, grounded strategies, and professional insight rooted in the unique demands of military and government service.

You'll strengthen core competencies, enhance decision-making, and build the mindset required to lead with purpose in any environment. This is a chance to focus on your growth, refine your leadership approach, and gain skills that make a lasting impact. Space is limited. Secure your spot and invest in your development as a leader.

MCFTB Presents: The Leader They'll Remember

Are you ready to lead with purpose and impact?

Marine Corps Family Team Building invites all Active-Duty E-4s and above, O-1 to O-3 officers, and civilian personnel to an energizing two-day leadership symposium designed to sharpen your edge and elevate your influence.

Day One dives into:

- Emotional intelligence in action
- Values-based leadership
- Conflict resolution strategies
- Powerful leadership lessons from history

Day Two features the game-changing “7 Habits of Highly Effective People” by Franklin Covey—one of our most requested courses—plus dynamic workshops on professionalism and leading with intention.

Expect engaging sessions, real-world tools, and inspiration from seasoned subject matter experts. Whether you're leading a team or preparing for your next step, this experience will equip you to be the leader they'll always remember.

Seats are limited—registration is required! Proper civilian attire required. Don't miss your opportunity to grow, connect, and lead with purpose.
